Marines Are Inwitting Aids in Vera Cruz Robbery; Thief Caught and Quickly Sentenced to 5 Years

By ROBERT H. MURRAY.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World at Vera Cruz.

JOHN MULCAHY has taken permanently into the history of the American occupation of Vera Cruz by demonstrating that American rascality as well as other things follows the flag. Mulcahy robbed a Spanish keeper of a canteen or wine cellar of 5000 pesos with the assistance of a squad of marines, but the marines didn't know until Mulcahy had the money that they were helping him.

"I know where there's a big lot of rifles and ammunition," Mulcahy told Commander Farris P. Sellers, the Provost Marshal.

Four marines were at once told to go with Mulcahy, who led his expedition to the cantina, where he and the watchman told him in Spanish—which none of the marines understood—to open the safe and give him all the money it contained or he would order the marines to shoot him. The watchman protested that the proprietor had taken all his money home with him.

Thereupon Mulcahy stole the home of the proprietor, got him out of bed and conversed earnestly with him, making frequent gestures toward the weapons of his escort. The Spaniard produced 5000 pesos and handed them over to Mulcahy, who bowed and graciously permitted the man to thank him for saving his life.

"Sorry," Mulcahy reported on his return to Sellers, "but it was a failure. Another party got the rifles yesterday."

Today the cantina man sought an audience with Commander Sellers and meekly inquired if he couldn't have a few hundred of the 5000 pesos for running expenses.

Thus the story came out. Mulcahy was arrested, restored the money and was sentenced to five years at hard labor.

ahead of the time of staff men watching the review.

In the van of the troops were the marines, under Lieutenant-Colonel W. C. Neville, who was first within the Forbidden City of Peking years ago, and the first man ashore here on Tuesday of last week. Oh, but it was during the review that he raised that hot brass roof above them as the marines swung past to their own marching tune, "Semper Parati."

Then came the Florida's men, and another try of the crowd at roof raising. It sounded like a chorus of 50 whistles—only louder. The navy's famous football air, "Down the Field," played the men of the Arkansas past the review.

Things did not lose their hubbub. Hot people looked the army that they felt at such gongs on grown-up folk. But one could not help it. It seemed as though the army were full of champagne and every one was merrily tipsy. It wasn't that the leading-up march which Americans in Mexico have been obliged carefully to bottle up for some time past if they wanted to keep themselves from grating with their native neighbors.

It was funny to see the San Francisco, the Prairie and the cock eye eyes over toward college as they went past. They remembered those lovely 18 minutes on the second morning of the fighting, when the old yellow building on the old yellow and shot more holes in it than (as a certain high naval officer has been named explained) "would patch hell a mile."

Marines in Broiling Sun. The troops doing the honor as the bluejackets went past were Col. Chas. G. Long's battalion of marines, who distinguished themselves at Leon, Nicaragua, and Col. Edward H. Phipps's Twenty-eighth Infantry, just off the transport. "Presenting arms as each new detachment of men came by these troops in the broiling sun for half an hour.

In the column that went by the reviewing position were the marines attached directly to the battleships, then successive detachments of bluejackets from the Arkansas, Utah, Michigan, New Hampshire, South Carolina, Florida, San Francisco, Chester, New Jersey, Connecticut, Louisiana and North Dakota, the whole naval brigade numbering 18 officers and 750 men.

The marines, reaching the end of Malecon Pier, embarked in four naval tenders, while the sailors counter-marched. Then the sailors, too, embarked, giving three cheers for the army as their cutters got away. The soldiers returned the cheers, and the marine band played "Should aid acquaintances be forgot."

The disembarking of the soldiers was highly complicated, because the marines brought from Philadelphia by the transport San Marcos, which was their disembarking and unloading, but it was accomplished quickly and without a hitch. Brigadier-General Farris P. Sellers, expressing great satisfaction over the excellent showing.

Mountain Artillery on Board. Meanwhile the transport Sallado was disembarking batteries A, B and C Fourth (mountain) Artillery. The remaining batteries of the Fourth and all the mules are still to disembark from the transport San Marcos, which has not yet docked.

In guarding Vera Cruz the marines will take the northern edge of the city, while the Fourth Infantry will take the southern edge and port, for the present.

No modern housewife would buy an ordinary Gas Stove after seeing "Bucks" sanitary line-made with white enameled, cast iron oven.

Admiral Whose Men Took City Issues Orders as He Relinquishes Control.

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, May 1.—Colonel Fletcher, who had been in charge of the land forces occupying the city of Vera Cruz, today issued orders as he relinquishes control.

"Headquarters of the United States naval forces on shore, Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 21, 1914. Division Order."

"The naval forces occupying the city of Vera Cruz will, at 2 p. m., April 21, 1914, withdraw and turn the command of the city over to the United States army."

"The navy landed at 11 o'clock a. m., April 21, 1914. From shortly after that time the land forces under an almost continual fire until 8:30 o'clock on the morning of the twenty-second."

"At that time, when all organized authority in the city of Vera Cruz had ceased to exist, the order was given to advance through the city."

Tells of Street Fighting. "The brigade under the command of Capt. William R. Rush of the United States navy had to fight its way from street to street, against a stubborn rifle fire from house-tops, windows, steeples and from places of concealment in all parts of the city. At 11 a. m. the city was in possession of the brigade."

"The splendid advance of our men in the morning, after being under fire all night, was deserving of the highest praise, and the accurate and timely gun fire of the Chester, the Prairie and the San Francisco in the harbor showed effective co-operation upon members of the United States navy."

"The praiseworthy conduct of our men in establishing and maintaining good order and restoring confidence among the inhabitants of the city after the fighting reflects the greatest credit on the discipline and resourcefulness of the men of the navy and army corps."

"In nine days' work the city of Vera Cruz was occupied by the navy, lawlessness and disorder were suppressed, 11,000 firearms were taken possession of and a line of defenses established around the city against an army threatening to recapture it."

"Business has been resumed and normal conditions restored. The municipal government of the city has been re-established under the control of its people and a civil government formal of carry out the laws of the State and of the Federal Government."

Work Done Completely and Well. "All preparations were made during this time for the landing of the army and for the relief and withdrawal of our own forces. The officers and men of the naval forces deserve the highest commendation for having done this work completely and having done it well."

"The highest commendation of the men who gave their lives in the service of their country."

"In withdrawing my command from Vera Cruz I wish to extend to the officers and men who took part in its occupation my deepest appreciation of their gallant conduct and support."

"In turning over the work over to the army, the navy extends its best wishes and good will."

Insistence on Huerta's Elimination Likely to Make Mediation Fail. LONDON, May 1.—Special dispatches from Mexico City to the London newspapers today say that hope is growing stronger in Mexico City that mediation will affect a settlement of the internal troubles of Mexico as well as the difficulty with the United States, but Gen. Huerta's supporters declare that if elimination should be insisted upon mediation is bound to fail.

Mediation a Step Toward Pan-Americanism, Says Argentine Paper. BUENOS AIRES, May 1.—Commenting on the mediation now proceeding between the United States and Mexico, La Razon today says:

"The acceptance by the United States of the mediation offered by Argentina, Brazil and Chile signifies a great step taken by President Wilson and the Democratic party towards Pan-Americanism."

The newspaper adds: "We believe the partisans of Theodore Roosevelt desired war, and that President Wilson saw the importance of the historic moment and thus ratified Pan-Americanism."

DEATH AS A SPY REPORTED PENALTY FOR AN AMERICAN

Dr. E. W. Ryan, of Syracuse, Who Aided State Department, Said to Be in Grave Danger.

By ROBERT H. MURRAY.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World at Vera Cruz.

VERA CRUZ, May 1.—A rumor, not fully confirmed, has reached Vera Cruz that his possession of confidential codes of the State Department and his refusal to translate them for the benefit of Mexican officials has placed Dr. Edward W. Ryan of Syracuse, Pa., under imminent danger of death as a spy at the city of Zacatecas. The British Consul there is interceding for him.

Dr. Ryan, according to information, has been sentenced to be shot by the order of Gen. Moles Barron, Military Governor of the State of Zacatecas. It has been generally understood that Dr. Ryan, while ostensibly engaged in Red Cross work, has been in reality serving the State Department as a gatherer of information, under special commission from Secretary of State Bryan who is his close personal friend. The fact that his arrest developed the presence of secret codes among his papers seems to confirm what merely was before suspected.

The American physician first sprang into prominence during the revolt in Mexico City a year ago, when his work among those injured attracted attention. In appreciation of this work the State Department gave him a watch.

Latterly Dr. Ryan has been known as an advocate of the presidential ambitions of Felix Diaz. It is said that it was upon his advice that Diaz went to Washington in an effort to impress his program upon members of Congress and other influential persons.

Others Held for Ransom. Mexican rebels are said to be holding for 200,000 pesos ransom August B. Emery of Boston, manager of the La Fama City of Guadalupe, near the city of Zacatecas, and Charles E. Smith, an Englishman employed as an engineer of the mine. The property is owned in England.

In attempting to extort this great sum, $80,000, Gen. Barron is apparently working with the rebels, for telegrams sent from Zacatecas to Mexico City demanding the ransom, were passed with Barron's signature of approval.

Word of the American physician's plight and the fact that he was in danger of death in Zacatecas, was brought to the State Department by the Post-Dispatch correspondent. No official information has come in over the department, men's wives.

fore, having been taken into custody by President Madero's orders when Huerta and Felix Diaz were closing in on the capital. The American physician was engaged in caring for the wounded under the White Cross organization. The work of the Red Cross and White Cross had been hampered by the refusal of both sides to respect the insignia. "Ryan happened to be at headquarters when an aid from Madero arrived," said a State Department official tonight, "and demanded that a dozen White Cross flags be surrendered to him. They were wanted to raise over automobiles containing Maderista scouts. Dr. Ryan promptly refused and continuing his routine in the face of threats, was arrested and taken to prison. He was released on the downfall of the Madero regime."

POLICEMAN LOCKED IN SALOON ICEBOX BY HIS PRISONERS

Disarmed Patrolman Pounds on Improvised Cell Five Minutes Until Customer Frees Him.

ONE MAN ARRESTED LATER

Taken to Jail He Attacks Sergeant and Is Sent to Hospital After Being Beaten.

Three men arrested by Patrolman "Archie" J. Brennan of the Dayton Street District Thursday took the policeman's revolver, locked him in a saloon icebox and escaped. Brennan shivered in the frigid cell for more than five minutes, pounding the heavy wooden sides until he was liberated.

About 4:30 p. m. Mrs. Stella Gremmer of 119 North Leflingwell avenue telephoned the police she had been insulted by a crowd of men. Brennan was sent to investigate and Mrs. Gremmer pointed out three men in the saloon of William Smith, at 242 Stoddard street. The patrolman informed them they were under arrest and one started for a side door, with the remark that he was going to get a gun.

Brennan started after the man, and the two others seized him by the arms from behind and took his revolver from his holster. Pressing the weapon against the policeman's side, the men backed him into the icebox and after locking the door, ran from the saloon.

William Smith, the proprietor, and his bartender, Fred P. Wegman, were in the saloon. About five minutes later a customer entered, and when he heard the patrolman pounding for help, opened the icebox.

About 15 minutes later Brennan, reinforced by five other patrolmen and Lieut. Walsh, arrested Frank Wegman, 37 years old, a police character, a brother of Smith's bartender, in the saloon of Thomas Egan at Broadway and Carr streets.

Capt. Singleton reported to headquarters from the Dayton Street Station that while being taken from a cell to the Captain's office Wegman spat upon Sgt. Patrick Kirk and called him vile names. The sergeant slapped him, and when the prisoner retaliated Kirk used his nightstick. Wegman was taken to the city hospital with several scalp wounds and internal injuries caused by club blows on the chest and abdomen.

Smith and his bartender were later arrested, as were also Patrick Donahue of 242A Stoddard street and Albert Becker of 215 Sheridan avenue. Donahue and Becker, according to the police, were standing in the front entrance of Smith's saloon when the three men, after locking Brennan in the icebox, ran out and told them to liberate him after the fugitives had a good start.

Frank Wegman gave his address as 109 North Broadway.

Information for All Lung Sufferers

The makers of Eckman's Alternative will be pleased to send reports of recoveries from tuberculosis and a booklet of interest to sufferers, with information about diet and fresh air. Investigate this case:

1619 Susquehanna Av., Phila., Pa.
"My Dear Sir:—For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, and later I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was March, 1912, that I started taking Eckman's Alternative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. I cannot speak too highly for the well-known Eckman's Alternative. It is most efficacious in bronchitis, catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Sold by Rubeaux Drug Co., 1001-1003 Market St., Philadelphia, Pa. Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa. For booklet of recoveries."

BIGAMIST'S PLEA IGNORED BY BRIDE; SHE'LL PROSECUTE

The second Mrs. Harry Canning-Linsdell, who was Miss Johanna Elise Kaub of 2003 Pestalozzi street, until her mid-night marriage, two weeks ago, and who has discovered that her husband has a wife and child in England, declared Friday that she would prosecute him relentlessly for bigamy. The husband, a piano salesman, is a prisoner in the Wyoming Street Police Station.

Her determination was strengthened when she found in one of his pockets a letter from the first wife in England, dated Jan. 30, in which she expressed her affection and inquired anxiously why he had not written lately. This letter destroyed the effect of the statements which the man had made after his arrest, that he was separated, by mutual agreement, from his first wife. She now believes he was writing to the first wife while he was courting her last fall and winter.

Canning-Linsdell, from his cell, wrote his bride a note, begging her forgiveness. If he could persuade her not to prosecute him he would probably go free of the bigamy charge, as it would be difficult to convict him without her testimony.

Canning-Linsdell and Miss Kaub, a singer, were married late on the night of April 15, after dining at a downtown cafe with friends. They had announced their engagement a week before, and had then set April 29 as the date for their wedding. They suddenly decided to advance the time, and they awakened a marriage license clerk and Justice Krueger to get the ceremony performed. They went to the Kaub home to live.

Macon Man Writes to Her Brother.
Fred Simpson of Macon, Mo., who knew Canning-Linsdell while he lived, for four years, in Macon, with his wife and son, read of the mid-night marriage and wrote to Charles Kaub, the young woman's brother, who is a member of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, telling him the facts. The bride seemed unable to believe that Canning-Linsdell had been married before, and said that, when she asked him about his past, he told her not only that he had never been married, but that he had never been engaged.

The man, when confronted with Simpson's letter, admitted the facts, and said he fell in love with Miss Kaub when he heard her sing at a concert in Huntville, Mo., last summer. He said he had quarreled with his wife, and that he sent her and the child back to England. Then he gave up his attempt to carry on a music business in Macon and came to St. Louis.

BRIDE OF TWO WEEKS WHO CHARGES BIGAMY

SURVIVORS TELL HOW BOY RESCUED 37 MEN IN MINE

By Associated Press.
ECLISSE, W. Va., May 1.—Thirty-seven miners employed in No. 6, where the explosion occurred last Tuesday, told their lives to Davy Buckhannon, a trapper boy, and the resourcefulness of A. P. Burdick, the fire boss.

The boy heard the explosion in No. 5, and like all miners, in No. 6, where the explosion occurred last Tuesday, told their lives to Davy Buckhannon, a trapper boy, and the resourcefulness of A. P. Burdick, the fire boss.

The boy heard the explosion in No. 5, and like all miners, in No. 6, where the explosion occurred last Tuesday, told their lives to Davy Buckhannon, a trapper boy, and the resourcefulness of A. P. Burdick, the fire boss.

Party Found by Rescuers.
After three hours of anxious waiting the imprisoned miners were rescued by a rescue party headed by Supt. Thomas Donaldson, who piloted them to safety.

Another incident of the explosion is told in the telephone office, where Margaret Campbell, the operator on duty when the explosion occurred, had just returned to work. With the first shock of the explosion she knew what had happened and knew that her brother had gone down in the mine. But there was no escaping her duty. Calls came in rapidly and she stuck to her post.

Not knowing whether her brother was dead or alive, she told the story of the tragedy to the outside world for three hours. Then her brother walked into the station. He had been ordered from the mine to other work just before the explosion.

Hope for Others Abandoned.
Hope that any of the men had escaped death in No. 6 has been abandoned by Government and State experts. A blacksmith shop near the mine tipple has been turned into a temporary morgue.

Federal rescue crews, equipped with axes, entered Mine No. 6 to clear away twisted wires and broken posts that litter the galleries and retard the recovery of bodies. Twenty bodies were at the bottom of the shaft, but it was expected tonight would come before they could be brought up, as the cage can only carry one body at a time and the round trip is almost a fifth of a mile.

Water from broken lines covers the mine at points to a depth of three feet. Electrical pumps are being installed as rapidly as possible to clear away the water.

Hundreds of persons continue to surround the village and there is little work in the district, miners and their families congregating here to comfort those of their friends who have suffered through the tragedy.

"Good News From Syracuse."
For several days the Post-Dispatch have been attracted by the announcement: "Good News From Syracuse," and it is fair to assume that every reader has been wondering what the good news from Syracuse meant. The "good news from Syracuse" is that the Well Clothing Co. of Washington avenue and Eighth street, beginning Friday, places on sale the entire stock of W. S. Peck & Co. of Syracuse, N. Y. The Peck Co. is retiring from business. It is one of the best-known producers of clothing for men of all ages, and especially the young man, in the United States. The Well company announces that they bought the entire spring stock of the Peck company at about 50 cents on the dollar. This clothing sale will be kept up until every garment in the lot is sold. The Well company declares that because of this deal the prices asked during the sale will be of exceptional value to men seeking cut rates in clothing that is of the very best texture, workmanship and latest style.

W. S. Peck & Co.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

On account of our retiring from business we have today accepted your exceptionally low offer for the entire balance of our Spring and Summer merchandise which consists of Standard Staple Line, as well as the newest and most correct fabrics in Cashmeres, Worsted and Tweeds. All of these garments have been made and factored on our own premises under our direct supervision, and every effort has been made to produce as good merchandise as is possible in the respective grades.

With our understanding of the low prices you expect to sell this merchandise to your trade in St. Louis we can safely say that no better clothing at the price has ever been offered to the people of your city.

We wish you every success in the sale of these goods.

Yours very truly,

On account of retiring from business the W. S. Peck & Co. of Syracuse, N. Y., through their representative, Mr. Herbert R. Peck, sold their entire stock to Mr. Max Weil. The transaction took place on April 18th, and the terms were net cash.

The full meaning of this extraordinary announcement is readily realized by the thousands who know what the name of W. S. Peck & Co. stands for. The individuality of the refined style—thoroughness of skillful tailoring—and durability of finest fabrics, all flash to the mind when PECK CLOTHING is mentioned.

We cannot help being enthusiastic about this grand purchase—it marks another milestone in the progress of our rapidly growing business and proves beyond misunderstanding the fact that any man can come here and secure the BEST clothing produced for the least money.

Just think for a minute what this great sale means to you—it means that you can obtain the standard $30, $25, $22.50, $20, $18 and $15 Peck Qualities made in the most wanted Spring 1914 styles and patterns, at nearly one-half price.

This great bona fide sale so far overshadows anything that has ever been attempted in genuine value-giving that no man, in justice to himself, can afford to spend one penny for new Spring clothes before coming here. Remember, the sale starts promptly tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. Store will remain open until 10 P. M., but we urge you to come as early as possible.

19 COLORADO MINE OWNERS REFUSE TO TREAT WITH UNION

In Wire to Congressman Foster
They Blame Strikers for Reign of Death.

DENVER, Colo., May 1.—The following is the correspondence in which the heads of 19 Colorado coal companies refuse to consider the suggestion of Congressman Foster, chairman of the House Committee on Mines, that the negotiations for a settlement of the Colorado strike be entered into on the basis that the demand for the recognition of the mine workers' union had been waived by the miners.

Telegram from Foster to Rockefeller: "William Green, secretary-treasurer of the International Mine Workers' Union, makes public statement that mine workers will waive any recognition of union or unionizing camps. Are you willing to enter into negotiations for settlement of strike on that basis, and stop killing of men, women and children? I strongly urge you to do so, and believe the strike can be ended without recognition of the union, and all the other differences can be amicably settled. In my judgment, it is your duty to do so."

Reply of Rockefeller to Foster: "Your telegram last night received. I am forwarding it to the officers of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. in Denver, who, with officials of other mining companies in Colorado, are the only ones competent to deal with the question therein referred to."

Reply of Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. and 18 other coal operating companies to Foster:

Says Strikers Began Attack.

"When, on April 16, the Governor withdrew all except a small detachment of militia from the field, law, order and quiet prevailed in this State. There were employed by the operators of Colorado coal mines more than 10,000 apparently contented men. On the morning of April 20 the striking miners in the Ludlow tent colony, two miles from the nearest coal mine, placed their women and children in what they considered places of safety and made an armed attack upon the militia, camped near by."

"The fight continued throughout the day and several men were killed. During the battle the tent colony was destroyed by fire. Next day the bodies of two women and 11 children were discovered in a hole under a tent where the strikers had placed them when the attack upon the soldiers was begun."

"They had all been suffocated. None of these children and no woman was killed by rifle fire, nor did the soldiers know of or have any reason to suspect the presence of non-combatants where the strikers had concealed them."

"On April 23, Lawson, International board member, United Mine Workers of America, and the leader of the strikers, in an interview published throughout the state, asserted that a war of extermination would therefore be conducted by the strikers, and Doyle, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, by wire instructed the officials of local unions to watch for the approach of the militia, which had been ordered back again into the field. The meaning and purpose of such language was obvious."

Property Has Been Destroyed.

"Since that time the strikers in armed bands varying in number from 50 to 400 have attacked the town of Delagua from the hills and killed three men. They have dynamited and burned the buildings and equipment of the Empire, Southwestern and Green Canyon mines at Aguilar. They have driven men, women and children into the Empire mine and sealed the entrance with explosives. After the declaration of truce agreed to between the Governor and Hawkins, attorney for the United Mine Workers of America, they drove the Postmaster and others away from the Sunny Side mine and took possession of it, as well as the Pictou mine. They dynamited the tipple at the McLaughlin mine and fired many shots into the building at Mather. They forcibly entered the store building at Rockvale and carried away guns and ammunition. They attacked the buildings and dwelling houses at the Chandler mine and kept up a merciless fire from the hills for nearly forty hours, killed one man and finally took possession of the camp by slipping in a number of men under a white flag. They have burned, dynamited and completely destroyed the McNally mine in Huerfano County, kept up an almost continuous fire from entrenchments for 64 hours upon the Walsen mine, wounded one woman, killed and wounded four men and killed a surgeon wearing the Red Cross insignia, while attending a wounded soldier on the field. They violently attacked the Hecla mine in Boulder County, killed and wounded three men and drove all employees and their families to cover for many hours. They attacked the Forbes mine in Las Animas County with a force of 400 armed men, killed seven miners, included four Japanese, and burned everything in sight, including a stable and 39 mules."

Won't Treat With Union.

"We cannot enter into negotiations of any character with the officers and agents of the United Mine Workers of America, who alone are responsible for this terrible reign of disorder and bloodshed, which has disgraced this State. Instead of it being our duty to do so, we conceive it rather the duty of the officials of the United Mine Workers of America, who called the strike, now to call it off. They can do so if they see fit, and by doing so they will, within a short time, in a great measure restore industrial peace and prosperity in this State."

"In no event will the American people, when fully advised, permit 1200 or 3000 armed strikers to continue their lawless efforts to prevent 100,000 law-abiding and industrial men from working for whom, when and upon such terms as they see fit."

FEDERAL TROOPS RESTORE QUIET AT COLORADO MINES

Strikers Take Vote on Question
of Surrendering Arms to
the Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—A War Department bulletin issued today said conditions at Walsenburg in the Colorado mining district, where Capt. Smith is in command of United States troops, were reported "critical," but that the work of restoring order in Trinidad and Canyon City districts was going forward.

DENVER, Colo., May 1.—Not an act of violence has been reported from the strike regions for more than twenty-four hours. The coming of the Federal soldiers ended, temporarily at least, any outbreaks in Fremont, Las Animas and Huerfano counties, and the mobilization of State troops and home guards in Boulder and Weld counties in the northern zone, had a quieting influence. Gov. Ammons today telegraphed Secretary of War Garrison, requesting additional Federal troops, on being informed by Maj. W. A. Holbrook that he would be unable to spare any men from his present command for duty in the Northern Colorado coal fields, where 200 militia under Gen. Chase still are on guard.

In Trinidad today a vote was to be taken by the strikers as to whether they would surrender their arms to the Federal troops under Maj. Holbrook. The action taken there, it was thought, would be followed in detail by the strikers in Huerfano and Fremont counties.

Not to Disarm Guards.

Holbrook had stated publicly that the Federal troops had no intention of disarming the mine guards, so long as they remained on company property and confined their activities to protecting the company property. Strikers indignantly spoke dubiously of this arrangement. Some of them seemed to believe that they should not be disarmed until the mine guards were forced to deliver up their weapons.

Strike leaders are going among the hills of Southern Colorado, urging the men to disperse and return to their homes; but, according to John Lawson, international board member of the United Mine Workers of America, they have not been told to give up their weapons.

"Men in all walks of life fought with the miners in this conflict," said Lawson. "But they will not oppose the Federal troops. They would not have opposed the militia had it not been for the gunmen affiliated with them. Now they are returning to their homes—those who have any left. The tent colony at Ludlow and Forbes will be rebuilt. The guns are the property of our men and, so far as I know, they will keep them."

The immediate withdrawal of State troops from the strike zone and the speedy disarmament of all mine guards are among the conditions named by the union leaders.

"Without this there can be no peace," Lawson said.

Governor Disputes Major.

The committee of women representing the Women's Peace Association of Denver today at Ludlow took affidavits of numerous strikers and strikers' wives regarding the fight at Ludlow April 26. Maj. Patrick Hamrock, who commanded the State troops at the Ludlow fight, told the women that in the fight at Forbes on Wednesday he, with 150 militiamen, sat in railroad cars ready to start for Forbes. They could hear the shooting, he said. Repeated telephone messages to Gov. Ammons, he said, failed to obtain permission to move from Ludlow and go to the relief of the besieged camp. Gov. Ammons in Denver denied he had received a direct request from Hamrock for permission to go to Forbes.

Nineteen coal mine companies have refused to consider a suggestion made by Chairman M. D. Foster of the House Mines Committee, that negotiations for settlement of the Colorado coal mine strike be entered into upon the basis that the recognition of unions had been formally waived by the United Mine Workers of America. This refusal was announced after a telegram which Foster had sent to John D. Rockefeller Jr. in New York calling upon him to settle the strike without recognizing the union had been referred to the mining companies of this State.

U. S. Troops Arrest Militiamen After Complaint of Looting.

WALSLEBURG, Colo., May 1.—United States regulars under Capt. D. Smith, commanding Troop C, Fifth United States Cavalry, last night arrested six militiamen after a complaint had been made that a saloon at the head of Seventh street, near the Walsenburg mine, had been looted. The prisoners, all privates, were turned over to the militia officers. The saloon said to have been robbed was used as a fortress by strikers in the recent fighting. Strikers in the saloon fired upon the militiamen.

FEDERAL TROOPS RESTORE QUIET AT COLORADO MINES

Strikers Take Vote on Question
of Surrendering Arms to
the Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—A War Department bulletin issued today said conditions at Walsenburg in the Colorado mining district, where Capt. Smith is in command of United States troops, were reported "critical," but that the work of restoring order in Trinidad and Canyon City districts was going forward.

DENVER, Colo., May 1.—Not an act of violence has been reported from the strike regions for more than twenty-four hours. The coming of the Federal soldiers ended, temporarily at least, any outbreaks in Fremont, Las Animas and Huerfano counties, and the mobilization of State troops and home guards in Boulder and Weld counties in the northern zone, had a quieting influence.

Gov. Ammons today telegraphed Secretary of War Garrison, requesting additional Federal troops, on being informed by Maj. W. A. In Trinidad today a vote was taken by the strikers as to whether they would surrender their arms to the Federal troops under Maj. Holbrook. The action taken there, it was thought, would be followed in detail by the strikers in Huerfano and Fremont counties.

Not to Disarm Guards.

Holbrook had stated publicly that the Federal troops had no intention of disarming the mine guards, so long as they remained on company property and confined their activities to protecting the company property. Strikers indignantly spoke dubiously of this arrangement. Some of them seemed to believe that they should not be disarmed until the mine guards were forced to deliver up their weapons.

Strike leaders are going, among the hills of Southern Colorado, urging the men to disperse and return to their homes; but, according to John Lawson, international board member of the United Mine Workers of America, they have not been told to give up their weapons.

"Men in all walks of life fought with the miners in this conflict," said Lawson. "But they will not oppose the Federal troops. They would not have opposed the militia had it not been for the summer afflicted with them. Now they are returning to their homes—those who have any left. The tent colony at Ludlow and Forbes will be rebuilt. The guns are the property of our men and, so far as I know, they will keep them."

The immediate withdrawal of State troops from the strike zone and the speedy disarmament of all mine guards are among the conditions named by the union leaders.

"Without this there can be no peace," Lawson said.

Governor Disputes Major.

The committee of women representing the Women's Peace Association of Denver today at Ludlow took affidavits of numerous strikers and strikers' wives regarding the fight at Ludlow April 20. Maj. Patrick Hamrock, who commanded the State troops at the Ludlow fight, told the women that in the fight at Forbes on Wednesday he, with 150 militiamen, sat in railroad cars ready to start for Forbes. They could hear the shooting, he said. Repeated telephone messages to Gov. Ammons, he said, failed to obtain permission to move from Ludlow and go to the relief of the besieged camp. Gov. Ammons in Denver denied he had received a direct request from Hamrock for permission to go to Forbes.

Nineteen coal mine companies have refused to consider a suggestion made by Chairman M. D. Foster of the House Mines Committee, that negotiations for settlement of the Colorado coal mine strike be entered into upon the basis that the recognition of unions had been formally waived by the United Mine Workers of America. This refusal was announced after a telegram which Foster had sent to John D. Rockefeller Jr. in New York calling upon him to settle the strike without recognizing the union had been referred to the mining companies of this State.

U. S. Troops Arrest Militiamen After Complaint of Looting.

WALSLEBURG, Colo., May 1.—United States regulars under Capt. D. Smith, commanding Troop G, Fifth United States Cavalry, last night arrested six militiamen after a complaint had been made that a saloon at the head of Seventh street, near the Walsenburg mine, had been looted. The prisoners, all privates, were turned over to the militia officers. The saloon said to have been robbed was used as a fortress by strikers in the recent fighting. Strikers in the saloon fired upon the militiamen.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Cause for War.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I am very glad to read in "Letters from the People" such matter as the contribution headed
"War and Murder" signed G. W. Hague.
Will the unthinking masses ever realize that war, under any pretext whatever is murder? We toss our civilization and we practice barbarism.
We make laws to protect the birds and animals of the fields and we are ready to kill our fellow men at all seasons, just so it is called
war. The slaying of an individual causes horror and condemnation, but when the victims are numbered by the thousands, those engaged in the slaughter are lauded as heroes and those who sent them to the front as great statesmen. Civilized nations vie with each other in perfecting the most formidable machines for this wholesale murder. The whole cost of this in money and blood is paid by the people and what for? To gratify the ambition of those in power and fill the coffers of speculators.
When the common soldier who is so fortunate (?) as to save his life, but minus an arm or a leg, gets back, a munificent Government grants
him a pension just big enough to keep him hungry
the rest of his life.
And, when the war is between nations that call themselves Christian even God Almighty is placed in a peculiar predicament. From both sides arise prayers for victory and the confounding of the enemy.
A. G. A. R. VETERAN.

Mexico and Colorado.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Please add one more name to the list of Saturday's "Letters from the People," who say the slaughter of miners in Colorado is a disgrace to our country. President Wilson ought to correct such mistakes at home first, then go abroad.
OTTO GRUNDLER, 6746 Wise avenue.

Save the "Weaklings."
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
As a white ribboner, I would like to give For-estheim a reason for the rapid advancement of prohibition. We belong to the army of the Lord and our weapons are prayer. Prayer is mightier than the sword. "And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive."
Matthew 21, 22. Can the advocates of intemperance dare to pray like this? Do they really know what personal liberty is? Is it their selfish appetites?

We are put here for the good we can do. What one drinks does him no good and encroaches on the personal liberty of others. There are husbands that make their wives live in tides just to satisfy their personal liberty.
Going to excess in other things, such as fashion, etc., is a foolish argument and is not to be compared to intemperance, for they do not make one come home and abuse, starve or murder wives and children. As for the weaklings, they are a soul and it is our duty to try and save that soul.
That is what the White Ribboners are doing. Intemperance has killed more people than disease
and war. As for the manufacturers and retailers, I would, rather be in the victim's place when we meet our Master face to face.
A WHITE RIBBONER.

The Ancient Outlook.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
An far back as 4500 years surgeons who injured eyes in removing cataract were punished. What a pity there is so little punishment now for experimenting on people's eyes! Don't suppose it is entirely the "quacks" who collect bills for im-prudence.
ONE EYE.

Beating Villa To It.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
During the past week we have witnessed a remarkable exhibition of diplomacy. A few U.
S. marines land in a hostile country which is under martial law; are arrested, identified and then released with apologies; and for this a heavy old murderer and reprobate is commanded to disgrace our flag by saluting it. Congress and Senate are passing resolutions and battleships and troops are moving towards Mexico. Is this exhibition of children's play statesmanship or diplomacy? What is the real motive and where is the joker? Is the revolution in the north of Mexico getting beyond the control of Wall Street
and are we trying to beat Villa to the stronghold of Mexico? That seems more reasonable to me than to think the past week's comedy is being played for our amusement. CHAS. WILCOX.
2114 BARNES AVENUE.

Feminine Terrors.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
The extraordinary savagery shown by girls hating in colleges should put a stop to the "demonstrations" that women could not go to war. It is to be hoped that no woman regiment will ever be organized in this country. Had as we may hate an enemy, we would not like to see him tortured.
AMANT MOEN.

THE U. R.'S WISE SURRENDER.

The agreement of the United Railways to give universal transfers in accordance with Judge Grimm's decision, without further litigation or legislation, is a victory for the people of St. Louis and for the law.

The surrender of the corporation is a triumph of better counsel than it has followed in past dealings with the city. We congratulate the management on its good sense in overruling the dictum
of the company's general counsel, Judge Henry T. Priest, that "there will not be any universal transfers in St. Louis" until the city passes a special ordinance providing a penalty for the misuse of transfers.

The officers found, as we predicted they could,
a simple way to protect itself against transfer frauds and mistakes. As many transfers as are necessary to designate the route will be issued to passengers asking for transfers upon transfers to take them to their destination.

The law is vindicated in this case. If the yielding of the corporation means that its officers have come to a better understanding of its relations
and obligations to the public, the fight is worth
the cost.

The policy of evasion and defiance of law and charter obligations gains nothing but public suspicion and hostility, which no public utility corporation can afford to deserve.

The policy of obedience to law and fidelity to service obligations wins public good will, which is one of the best assets a public utility company can possess. All of its privileges are based upon the condition of fair charges for adequate service.
They will not survive on any other basis.

Mayor Kiel, Republican, had never met J. A.
Hooke, veteran Democratic city employe, until after he had promoted him on his merits to be Sewer Commissioner. The danger of such satisfactory appointments to the bosses is that the people may insist on all appointments being made with a similar disregard of personal and political considerations.

TWO HEARTS THAT BEAT AS ONE.

Gen. Villa and Richard Harding Davis are agreed that soldiers ought to be kept fighting.
Villa is afraid to leave his soldiers idle for fear
that Satan will find something for them to do,
such as deserting to the enemy; accordingly he is taking the field. Come to think of it, what mischief could Satan find for Villa's idle hands
to do, if permanent peace supervened?

As for Mr. Davis, he dreads lest our forces will lose their "fighting edge," whatever that is, if they are kept at sweeping streets, washing clothes, playing baseball and other peace pursuits. Everybody will sympathize with an excellent war correspondent's natural yearning for something to correspond about.

If we felt certain that peace would reign indefinitely at Vera Cruz we would be inclined to send Mr. Davis into the interior to trail Villa.
They are the sort of combination that makes real reading matter.

The Public Service Commission's employes who will count the passengers in St. Louis street cars
during rush hours attempt a heart-breaking task,
without portable adding machines.

A GOOD FIGHT.

Colorado was going hell-bent towards anarchy.
The country knew it. There were correspondents from everywhere at the seat of war.

But a clique in the Denver Chamber of Commerce wanted to suppress the facts. It did not wish the world to know them. The truth, it thought, would hurt Colorado, and Denver, and especially the pocketbooks of the members of the clique.

So the clique went to the Rocky Mountain News
and Denver Times with the demand, as the papers say, to suppress the news of the miners' strike, or at any rate to color it so as to give the impression that nothing serious was the matter.
And the world knew, all the time, that the situation was desperate, and that Colorado could not handle it. Without a line of news on the strike in the Denver papers, the country would have been fully informed. And yet the Denver papers that dared to publish the news are, they claim, being sued, at the instance of "Big Business," for printing the facts.

It is a good fight. The big guns of publicity trained against the citadel of deceit and concealment, whose defenders, like Huerta, don't know that they are out of ammunition and in the last desperate straits.

AN APPALLING DEATH RECORD.

According to the annual report last year of the Federal Bureau of Mines, indisputable evidence showed that "conditions tending toward safety in coal mining are actually improving, and that coal
is being mined with less danger to the miner than ever before."

Faith in this optimistic statement must be shaken by such a disaster as that at the New River collieries in West Virginia, in which possibly 200 men perished.

It is true that since 1907, in which year in four exceptionally disastrous explosions 690 men were killed, the number of fatalities from that cause
each year has decreased. In 1910, in gas and coal dust explosions, 518 men were killed; in 1912, 201
were killed. It may be true that this apparent improvement, as the Bureau of Mines concludes, has been brought about through more efficient mine
inspections on the part of the state mining departments and greater care on the part of operators and miners, in large part due to the educational work of the Federal Government. But in the history of coal mine accidents, the number of those killed through explosions fluctuates widely by periods. The shocking loss of life among miners underground, due to minor causes, of which the public takes little note, varies far less.

From 1900 to 1913 there were 11 coal mine explosions in each of which over 100 lives were lost, or 2070 in all. The worst disaster was at Monongah, W. Va., in 1907, when 361 men were killed. Since 1865, gas and coal dust explosions caused 183 accidents and 5111 deaths, or over three-fourths of the men killed. The next great number of deaths was from mine fires, which caused the loss of 1062 lives, or over 15 per cent of the total number killed, by 33 accidents.

In 1912 the death rate was 3.15 for every 1000
men employed and 4.29 men were killed for every 1,000,000 tons of coal mined. But the United States has the highest death rate of any of the mine countries enumerated by the Bureau of Mines. Where the death rate for 1901-1911 was 3.74 per 1000 men employed in coal mining in the United States, it was only 2.11 in Germany, 1.69
in France, 1.36 in Great Britain, 1.04 in Austria
and 1.02 in Belgium.

Obviously these figures mean that the toll of lives lost in coal mining in this country is excessive. Obviously they also signify that the United States still has much to learn in caring for the lives of its coal miners, and that if progress has actually been made in the last five years, it is still far behind other countries.

This is the day on which, according to the notice
given by Chairman Harlan of the Interstate Commerce Commission, rate increase discussions must positively cease. Prompt judgment by the umpires will start an early resumption of the play
interrupted while the arguing has been going on.

GET THE BIG THINGS.

We indulge the hope that not one of the Board of Freeholders will refuse to sign or support the new charter.

We sympathize with the objection of Messrs.
McDonald and Rowe to the 28-member Assembly;
we prefer a smaller body nominated and elected
at large, but we disagree with their reputed view that this defect is ground for refusal to sign in support of the instrument as a whole. We cannot find justification for opposition to a charter admittedly of great merit in the main on account of objections to some of its provisions.

Admitting the force of the objection to a 28-member assembly nominated from wards and elected at large it must be conceded that the proposed Assembly would be better than the present double chamber Assembly with 28 members of the House elected by wards. It is a decided improvement on the present system.

All charters and constitutions are framed and adopted through compromises on minor points.
The framers must adjust differences of opinion
to arrive at a conclusion as the voters must yield personal opinions on some points to put the instrument into effect.

We will never get a new charter if every Freeholder and every voter must be wholly satisfied.
The principal thing to consider is the merit of the charter as a whole. Does it have the provisions in it for good government? Does it mark progress?

We believe the new charter makes for great and valuable progress. It would be calamitous to sacrifice its substantial advantages and lose the cost and labor of its preparation on account of a few unsatisfactory features.

Let us sink petty differences and join hands
in getting the things we need.

DAMNING LUMBER TRUST FACTS.

The Federal Commissioner of Corporations finds conditions in the lumber trade throughout the United States closely paralleling the conditions which last winter were judicially affirmed
to exist in one branch of the trade in this State.

The Yellow Pine Association, against 24 of whose subsidiary corporations the Missouri Supreme Court assessed fines totaling $438,000, with decrees of ouster in addition, is only one of a general type of lumber associations in the country
at large taking their name from the territory in which they operate or the particular class of lumber in which they deal.

The Federal Commissioner reports that these bodies, with the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association at their head, have been perniciously active in controlling prices. Prior to 1906 this purpose was attained by open agreement. Since then "the practices they professed to abandon
have been continued by subterfuge and indirection
through the same groups of men."

Between 1897 and 1907, the Commissioner ascertains that prices were increased from 80 to 200 per cent, and the oulter of the cottage had to pay as well as the builder of the mansion. Powerful lobbies have been maintained at large expense at capitals to influence tariff, builder's lien
and other favorable legislation.

The importance the Missouri decision setting
the lumber yard free had in indicating the successful line for a nation-wide attack on this most rapacious of trusts was recognized by the Post-Dispatch at the time it was handed down in December. Prior to that time repeated Federal attempts to bring it into conformity to law had failed.

The facts set forth by the commissioner, who adopts the Missouri view that conspiracies to raise prices are none the less criminal because made under the guise of professional "code of ethics," furnish an admirable ex-parte basis
for further prosecutions bringing the new freedom to the boycotted retail dealer and the exploited consumer.

GOOD COUNTY ROADS.

The organizing of the St. Louis County Good Roads Association is an important step in the progress of the county. Nothing adds more to the prosperity and comfort of the people than good roads. This is true of the country under all circumstances, but it applies particularly to the territory immediately surrounding a great city.

St. Louis County's growth and prosperity depend largely upon St. Louis. It draws population from the city and trades with the city. The roads are used by city people, and unless they are well made and well cared for, become a source of discomfort and cost to both city and country people.

St. Louis County's population and wealth would be greatly increased by good roads. Permanent good roads cost more in the beginning, but are cheaper in the end than makeshifts. The county will gain by laying solid foundations.

If the association carries out its plan of getting representatives in every precinct and vigorously pursues its purposes its value to the county will be incalculable. The city and county should cooperate in constructing better roads thorough-
out.

THE WHITE FLAG.

JUST A MINUTE.

Written for the Post-Dispatch by Clark McAdams.

MAY.
Wake me early, mother darling,
For I must go to war;
I want to be in Mexico
Where Wood and Funston are.
I want to see those famous men
Make little of their lives.
And I want to be there, mother dear,
When Roosevelt arrives.
I want to feel the land tip up
When he shall bound ashore,
And watch the very mountains shake
When he begins to roar.
I want to see his men ride by
With Bwana at their head,
And hear the Mexicans exclaim,
"Here comes that fellow Ted!"

May gets its name from the Latin majores (the elders), just as we have June from the Latin Juniores (the younger). The Roman people were divided into these two classifications, by Romulus, the one being appointed to maintain the republic by their counsel and the other by their arms. The elders decided when the flag had been in-sulted, and the Juniors did the fighting.
This system was in some respects similar to our own. When the Gauls refused to salute after arresting one of his boat crews, Caesar took the young men and attacked them by land and sea. He began by seizing the customs houses, which was customary in war
then as it is now. The situation in Gaul at that time was about what the situation was in Mexico when we began our war with Huerta. There were three armies in the field—the Aquitanians, who corresponded to the Huertistas; the Belgians, who were comparable to the Constitutionalists; and the Helvetians, who resembled the Zapatistas. Caesar,
who was a brilliant military strategist like Gen. Leonard Wood, alternated between playing both ends against the middle and the middle and one end against the other, until he had the Gauls too exhausted to fight the Roman at all. It was thus he divided the country into three parts.

Like shells from Funston's trusty guns,
The buds will open with a boom.
And showers tempered by the suns
Will fill the orchards with perfume.
The army won't dance around
And huff defiance at the wheat,
The flicker's drumming will resound
Across the meadowland and sweet.
The warlike mule will take
A potshot at the milking pail.
And the playful billygoat will make
The calf salute him with his tail.

There is no other spirit quite so catching as the thrill of war. It makes us all desire to fight, no matter who or what we are. The quaint peace advocate is wild to shoot somebody in the back, the married man subdued and mild, becomes a raging maniac, the passion rushes from his throat and wants to scatter ball and shell, the quiet man
along the block begins to fulminate
and yell, the veteran who testifies that war is hell begins to dance, the woman who has tender eyes, appeal for harassment and pants, the meek and low of the earth intimidates the bold as foe, and all that any man is worth of brave and filling for the globe.

To prize of peace is very well, and peace we think a goodly thing; but let
the country ring the bell, and all of us are in the ring. We do not get it in country here by methods favored at Tehuacan, nor did our liberty appear on any invitation vague. We fought for all we have today, and each man of us
has a bear; our liberty of blessed away
the day we were knocked out of the
—we dragged her hither by the hair
—we like A. Carnegie, all right, and think his motives good enough, but let somebody start a fight, and off with that amusing stuff. A nation lives and holds its own by knocking other countries out, and once its character is known they all take care what they say about. We licked a few of them to show them sundry samples of our grit.

Senator Culpeper's Fighting Substitute is Flying Towards Mexico

By LEWIS B. ELY.

Special War Correspondent by Wireless.
DE LASSUS, Mo., May 1.—Fevely Sad-lers, who is on his way to Mexico as Senator Culpeper's war substitute,
passed through De Lassus last night
under flying colors after a forced march from Bismarck.

As related in Wednesday's dispatches
from Potosi, published exclusively by the Post-Dispatch, Fevely was held prisoner at Potosi until his draft on Sen.
Culpeper at Washington should be paid
so he could square up his losses at seven-up with the ex-Town Marshal.
But public-spirited citizens made up a pure and paid the ex-Marshal in order
that Fevely might be released at once,
because his wounds (the Culpeper pack)
kept up such a howl outside the jail
that nobody could sleep. The whole pack caught up with Fevely at Potosi.
At Bismarck, Fevely was likewise
quartered on the municipal hall and given supper in the calabozo. Ever since he left home he has been at municipal expense, and can give a good report on the condition of his home life.

His detention at Bismarck was due to his suspicious appearance. He was mistaken for one of the old-fashioned
as he rode in on the bus or lavender mule with Santa Rita's rifle across his shoulder and the pack at his heels. After feeding him, however, they decided to turn him loose on condition that he would keep his gun on him. As he was leaving, some of the town boys played a joke on him.

They filled his pockets with unfurnished grapes just as he began to ferment when it was found dangling against the mule's side. Three of the out-the-cantons of the town, he brought up the rear, and then he forward, all in a moment that a have disclosed it. The town boys Patman or John (the town boys)
as or anybody but a town boy
trooper used to be with him.

Needless to say the post paid
De Lassus money for Fevely's
ing hand or hand money with went flying through town with his
all-salher and the whole thing
It will doubtless be a long time
to learn that the whole thing was a mistake. The town boys had a good laugh at the whole business. It is Fevely's fault that he is a good citizen, a good neighborhood, but he has a good head.

A Wonderful Wall.
FEW people realize what an almost perfect condition prevails along
a large part of the great wall of China.
The bricks of the parapet are as firm as ever and their edges have stood the severe climatic conditions of North China with scarcely a break. The paving along the top of the wall is so smooth that one may ride over it with a bicycle, and the great granite blocks with which it is faced are smooth and
as closely fitted as when put in place
over 2000 years ago.

The entire length of this wall is 1400 miles. It is 22 feet high and 20 feet in thickness. At intervals of 100 yards or so there are towers, some 40 feet in height.—Popular Mechanics.

The New Game

Sandman Story of How Mamma Taught Her
Little Girls to Play at Keeping House.

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

It was a rainy day, a . . . Mary and Julia were tired of their games and books.

"I wish we had a new game,"
said Julia, "but I do not believe there is anything new."

"That is a bad state of mind for a little girl to have," said her mother,
"but I think I can tell you a new game
—at least, one that you never tried."

"What is it?" asked both little girls.
"It is called 'keeping house,'" said
their mother, "and you play it in your playroom."

Julia and Mary were a little doubtful
at first about this game, but as they were tired of all others they decided to try it.

They began as their mother had told them, looking over their toys and books

"Our books look like new ones," said
Mary, as they were putting them on the shelves. "I did not know how mussy they were," said Julia, "until
we began to press them."

The clothes were dry, but as they had to be sprinkled, their mother told them
they had better leave the ironing until the next day.

After lunch the books were pressed and their mother showed them how to repair the toys. Then a box was brought from the cellar and all the discards were packed in it.

"What is to be done with them?"
asked Mary.

"We will send them to the orphan asylum," said her mother. "You can go to the phone and call an express-

man while Julia and I are tacking on the cover."

And so the second day passed and the game of 'keeping house' was not finished. Before they went to bed that night Mary and Julia sprinkled the clothes and all the next day they ironed.

That was great fun, ironing the little sleeves and the tiny skirts.
"I did not know we had so many clothes for our dolls," said Julia, "and after this when a skirt or dress is soiled I think we had better wash and iron it, and not wait until we have so many."

"Why not wash and iron once a week
as other people do?" said Mary.
"That would be just like keeping house, wouldn't it?" said Julia: "let us
do that."

The next day the sun was shining and both little girls said they had not reminded that it had rained three days.

There were many clothes to be repaired, but that was saved for another rainy day.

Both little girls said that the game
of 'keeping house' had been great fun,
"and, besides that, our playroom looks so orderly," said Mary.

"And all the books look new, and the dolls in their fresh-looking clothes look
as if it were Christmas," said Julia.

AN EXPERT'S Comment on Our Stores

THE NATIONAL CASH REGISTER COMPANY

Mr. David L. Remley, Retail Department Store Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Sir:

It is the writer's position to visit retail stores throughout the United States investigating systems used in the handling of store transactions, with a view of improving our product.

While in your city it was my good fortune to visit your various stores, and in this connection, allow me to say, I have never seen a grocery store in the United States where any more care, if as much, was taken in the selection of goods, or handling same as in a more class or sanitary manner.

It must, indeed, be a pleasure for your customers to shop when such good values are given, and secured courteously by good help in such a clean wholesome atmosphere.

Such annual stores as you have I believe are worth of commendation. I therefore take this moment of expressing my sincere compliment to you.

Yours truly,

KOBUSCH ANSWERS BEGG'S SUIT WITH $150,000 CLAIM

Wants Five Years' Salary Under Contract With Beggs, D. May and M. Shoenberg.

George J. Kobusch, formerly head of the St. Louis Car Co., filed an answer Friday in Judge Cave's Court to the suit of John I. Beggs, his successor, against him for the collection of $20,122.55, in which Kobusch sets up a counter claim for $150,000 under a contract and for the value of some collateral on which there was a foreclosure for Beggs' benefit.

Beggs' suit asks that $200,000 collateral which Kobusch has at the National Bank of Commerce as security for a loan be held subject to a judgment Beggs has against Kobusch for $20,122.55.

In his answer Kobusch says that on June 10, 1911, he executed a demand note for $50,000 to the First National Bank of Milwaukee, of which Beggs was a director and stockholder, and deposited 400 shares of stock of the Union Trust Co. of New Jersey and $50 shares of the St. Louis Car Co. common stock. The note was guaranteed by Beggs.

Bank Foreclosed on Note. The bank, he says, in May, 1912, foreclosed on the demand note. At that time the market value of the Union Trust stock was $110 a share, and the value of the car company stock was $40.21 a share.

May 20, 1912, the collateral was sold. Kobusch says, and was bought by officers of the bank for Beggs at $30 a share for the trust company stock, a total of $32,000, and $1 a share for the car company stock, a total of $50. This left, according to Beggs' contention, $19,600 still due on the note.

Kobusch alleges that there was not a public sale of the shares, but the sale was conducted secretly after banking hours. The reasonable market value of the shares, he says, was $65.00. He asks judgment for that amount less the amount he owed the bank.

Asks Salary for Five Years. For another counter claim Kobusch alleges that in October, 1913, the car company and Kobusch as parties of the first and second part, and D. May, M. Shoenberg and Beggs, as parties of the third part, entered into a contract with Kobusch under which he was to be paid $30,000 a year for five years as chairman of the Board of Directors of the car company and manager of the sales department.

He says that after he had served nine months Beggs requested him to leave and made it impossible for him to remain. He says he has received no part of the salary that was to have been paid him, and asks judgment for five years' salary, $150,000.

GIRL KEPT IN AT SCHOOL DIES WITHIN 24 HOURS

Child Returns to Home in Williamson, Ill., Weeping; Cerebral Hemorrhage, Says Doctor. Attila Bombardini, 7 years old, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bombardini, at Williamson, Ill., two miles from Staunton, Thursday, after an illness of only 24 hours.

A physician who attended her said cerebral hemorrhage caused her death. Bombardini told the physician that when his daughter walked home Wednesday from Staunton, where she attended school, she was nervous, and wept bitterly because, she said, she had been kept in after school. She was too excited to tell what had occurred. Her mother called a physician, but her condition did not improve.

Bombardini said the girl had an unbroken record for good behavior at school, and the thought of being punished seemed to have broken her heart.

NEW YORK, May 1.—A special panel of 300 talesmen for the second trial of Charles Becker, the former police Lieutenant, charged with the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, has been drawn, and District Attorney Whitman has begun a secret investigation of every man on the panel.

Subpoenas were issued for the talesmen to appear in the Supreme Court next Wednesday, the day set for the trial to begin, making it apparent that Whitman does not intend to ask for an adjournment of the trial.

NEW

Going Out Of Business:

aking a new location (our lease expiring soon) we found rents prohibitively high. It would mean we could NOT maintain the standard of value-giving that has characterized this store and the name ROTHGIESSER for 31 years. We quit NOW, regardless of the season, regardless of the immense Spring and Summer shipments of new, fresh stock, and lastly—REG/WHOLESALE OF PRICE. That's the decision and that's the whole spirit of this Going Out of Business Sale. The high-rent landlords have forced it upon us. The people who can depend upon every assertion, every value, and that's why we've been compelled to use force to preserve here. Only regular stock represents special sale goods. $125,000 stock to dispose of; the best lots go first, so come early tomorrow. 50 extra salesmen.

PANTS, SLIP-ONS

Remember that we have selected at random these items and our two floors are crowded with just the things you want and need. Our stocks were never more complete, and in order to dispose of such an immense stock in so short a time, desperate price cutting was necessary, and these values show it. See our big 12 windows full of the very things you need and want. Buy two of anything for the price usually paid for one. Please be patient.

ROCKEFELLER JR. STAYS HOME AFTER THREATS AT OFFICE

He Plans to Get Relief From Colorado Strike War "Mourners" Demonstrations.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 1.—John D. Rockefeller Jr., it was said, at his office today, feeling that he has been forced to bear the brunt of the criticism growing out of the mine strike in Colorado, hopes soon to devise a plan by which he may relieve the situation, so far as the demonstrations against him are concerned. What he purposes to do was not made clear.

Rockefeller spent the day at his home in Pocantico Hills, transacting all his business over the telephone. His carter said he was not ill, but was much disturbed by the ordeal he had passed through.

"Mourners" were again marching up and down in front of the Standard Oil building at 28 Broadway.

Among the marchers were Sarah Greenwood and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, English suffragettes. Miss Freeman was released this morning from the Tombs Prison against her will. With Upton Sinclair and another woman, she had gone to a cell rather than pay a fine of $2 for disorderly conduct. Someone paid the fine.

At Mulberry Bend Park, several blocks from the Standard Oil building, a great crowd assembled to attend a meeting of the Antimilitarist League. Alexander Berkman, the anarchist, who shot Henry C. Fried, called the meeting to order. Among the banners displayed was one bearing a skull and crossbones with the caption, "No. 28 Broadway."

Threats Are Repeated.
Mario Gantz was the first speaker. He reiterated threats of personal violence to John D. Rockefeller Jr. Police Commissioner Woods said that he considered her utterances a violation of the law.

While Upton Sinclair, Miss Elizabeth Freeman, an English militant suffragette, and Mrs. Donie Lietner, pioneers in the "Free Silence League" protest against conditions in Colorado, were being sent today to the Tombs prison for picketing yesterday, other picketers wearing crepe on their sleeves began pacing the sidewalk in front of 28 Broadway, where Rockefeller has his office.

Hunger Strike Threatened.
Rockefeller issued a statement characterizing as "infamous" any allusion to conditions in Colorado as "Rockefeller's war." The conflicts in Colorado were not between mine owners and strikers, he said, but between the strikers and the State troops. The statement contained no reference to the "free silence" protest in this city.

While Sinclair and others were having a two-hour hearing in court, Maria Gantz of the I. W. W. was making fruitless efforts to see Rockefeller. When attendants barred her from his office, she uttered threats against Rockefeller and walked out in Bowling Green Park, mounted a pile of lumber and made a verbal attack on him. If he failed to accept arbitration with the Government, she cried to a throng of several thousand persons, he would be forced to arbitrate with the working people.

Upton Sinclair's wife was in the front of 28 Broadway among the picketers, one of whom wore a ribbon with the text, "Thou shalt not kill."

Rockefeller's statement quoted the Lieutenant-Governor of Colorado in an effort to show that the strikers themselves started the trouble by killing a nonunion man. Alluding to "deplorable loss of life in Colorado," Rockefeller said:

"To describe this condition as 'Rockefeller's war,' as has been done by certain of the sensational newspapers and speakers, is infamous. Our interest is solely in the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co., which is simply one of a large number of coal operating companies in the State of Colorado."

A demonstration was held in front of the West Fifth Street residence of John D. Rockefeller and John D. Rockefeller Jr. last night by men who claimed to represent the Anti-Militarist League of New York. They walked back and forth carrying placards bearing an inscription:

"Thou shalt not kill, either in Mexico or Colorado. * * * If you want to fight, join the cause of labor against capitalism and help us and the Colorado mine workers who are being ruthlessly slaughtered."

It was said that Rockefeller and his son were not at home during the demonstration.

MRS. U. S. GRANT III HERE

Mrs. Ulysses S. Grant, III, wife of Capt. Ulysses S. Grant, III, of the U. S. engineering corps; her daughters, Miss Edith Grant and Miss Clara Frances Grant, and Edward W. Root of New York, brother of Mrs. Grant and son of the late former Secretary of State Elihu Root, stopped at Hotel Jefferson over Thursday night, en route to Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Grant and her daughters accompanied Capt. Grant to Galveston, where he embarked for Vera Cruz. He is now mapping entrenchments in the hills north of Vera Cruz, where 67 years ago his grandfather, Ulysses S. Grant, later President of the United States, served under Gen. Scott as a second lieutenant. Mrs. Grant and her daughters are being escorted to Washington home by Root.

Mr. F. H. Flinard, assistant director of traffic, Southern Pacific company, New York City, is visiting St. Louis.

Pastor's Lecture Follows Film Show.
The photo drama of "Creation," which has been shown at the Victoria Theatre for 14 weeks, will end Friday night and will be followed, Saturday night, by Pastor Benjamin H. Barton of Fairmount, who will lecture on "Surprises of the Bible."

A Fight Is On in New York

Manufacturers Are Fighting for Cash. We Have Taken Advantage of the Overstocked Condition

Manufacturers driven by cancellations and backward season are forced to fight for cash to unload their stocks. They are willing to sacrifice everything for cash—including the finest bench tailored clothes that journeymen tailors can make. We captured high-class suit stock at our own price. It's easily the master merchandising stroke, the biggest thing that has been pulled in this town in a decade.

These Big Purchases Are Comb With Recent Shipments From Epstein-Douglas & Co., New York, L. Apt & Sons, Chicago, Levinson-Schoenfeld and Yatter, Chicago, Ill.

Tomorrow, with this grand assemblage of rare clothing values, we're going to fire a veritable dynamite bomb into the clothing trade of this town. Sales there may be, but none can compare with this event with its thousands of new, fresh Spring and Summer Suits for men and young men. Suits in most elaborate materials in stunning models, English Suits, Business Suits, cut from the richest of rich fabrics, some not even shown in the shops of the finest tailors. Words fail and fall flat in attempting to describe these remarkable purchases and the result of this history-making sale—but every value is honestly and conservatively stated as follows:

RAY COLUMN

Another Jolt for Britain.

WHEN Melbourne Inman, champion billiardist of Great Britain appears in this country, late next summer, in his match with the ball-line title holder, Willie Hoppe, he is going to receive a swift jolt squarely in the egoism.

Melbourne is the marionette champion of the billiard world. When he goes to bat nothing less than 9000 points goes, and when it comes down to a real, honest-to-goodness title struggle, he likes to play 15,000 points. It is over this route that he recently won the British championship.

Brush Up in Mathematics, Bo. All his life Melbourne has devoted himself to the study of mathematics. It is a game played on a miniature table, known as a table, with holes, as if for a golf match. It is a game played on a miniature table, known as a table, with holes, as if for a golf match. It is a game played on a miniature table, known as a table, with holes, as if for a golf match.

This Inman Is Some Joker. Inman has figured that if he can shine at this complex system, a single game, such as the American billiard style, ought to be a cinch for him. He therefore has devoted weeks of his life to mastering billiards. From 2 to 10 each morning, Tuesday and Friday, he is practicing United States billiards and asserts that since he was high enough to use a cue while standing on a box and who has played nothing but the difficult balk game all his life, he will have no trouble at all in playing the American style.

On the Other Hand. As we see the matter, it is Inman who will have to look to his laurels. For Hoppe, master of all styles of play, will find the English pastime just a game, not one of many serious difficulties in execution. English billiards is played on a table 5 by 12 feet, equipped with six pockets, after the manner of our pool table, these being 34 inches across the jaw. The official ball is 24 inches in diameter. It is possible to count as follows:

- (1) A carom.....2 points
- (2) Pocket the red ball.....2 points
- (3) Pocket opponent's ball.....2 points
- (4) Pocket cue ball off red.....2 points
- (5) Pocket cue ball off red.....2 points

The highest possible total of points that can be made at one shot is nine, this including the first three methods of scoring mentioned, plus either No. 4 or No. 5.

Post-Dispatch League Team's Star Pitcher Strikes Out 18 Batsmen

Walter Miller, the sensational pitcher of the Champion Sigel team of the Post-Dispatch Public School Baseball League, added another victory to his string by defeating the Rock Spring team Wednesday by the score of 11 to 0. Due to the good work of Miller and the almost perfect support behind him, the Rock Spring team had no chance. Miller allowed only one hit and struck out 18 batters. The Sigel team has an excellent chance of again playing in the final of the league series. The Bryan Hill team won from the Walnut Park team Wednesday by the score of 5 to 2. The batteries were Huber and O'Mara for Bryan Hill and Heale and Toney for Walnut Park. Huber held the opposition to one hit and struck out 16 batters. Following is Saturday's schedule:

CHICAGO CAPITAL SEEKING OPTION ON HEDGES' STOCK

Offer of $275,000 for Brown Magnate's Holding Believed to Come From Feds.

Old Dame Rumor has bobbed up again for the umpteenth time with the report that Robert L. Hedges is to peddle his ball club. The Colonel has evened up the score by again issuing a denial.

The latest is that a syndicate is ready to take over Hedges' holdings in the Browns and has offered to purchase his bit for $275,000. When this price was mentioned to Hedges in asking him to deny or verify the report, he was almost staggered. For that sum, Hedges estimated he could get a few big bags, an extra outfielder or two and a half dozen season books to his park.

Hedges said that recently he had been approached, through a friend, with a proposition to put a price on his club. When the friend told him who had made the proposition, Hedges says, he refused to enter negotiations or to personally see the man, as he believed the proposition was not sincere and didn't have enough money to buy his ball club. When told that the rumor said that $275,000 was ready to be turned over to him in the event he desired to sell, Hedges said that he was not interested in the proposition, as he was confident he could sell the property at Grand avenue and Dodder street alone for $200,000.

Hedges said he is prepared for reports that he is to be sold, but he is not interested in the proposition, as he is in baseball to stick, and with a promising team and a capable manager in charge, sees a chance to make some money. Under these conditions, Hedges says he sees no reason for quitting now, after he has tolerated losses for years.

Central-Soldan Battle Will Be Repeated Today

Central and Soldan baseball teams will meet this afternoon at St. Louis University campus, playing a game postponed from Tuesday, April 20. Monday and Fox will probably work for the West Enders, while Coach Walker will send Reagen and Murphy in as the Central battery.

The two nines clashed yesterday in a scheduled interscholastic game. However, Stroeter twice a nice game, allowing but three bingles, and was given flawless support. Bill Marketter almost landed his team on top when, in the fourth inning, he put the ball over the left field fence with the bags loaded. However, Stroeter was invincible after that. Rowan and Murphy formed the battery for the losers.

Triple Steal Saves Naps From Defeat by Browns

Graney, Olson and Carisch Pull Rare Play at Expense of Recruit Catcher Jenkins, Whose Mistakes Cost Rickey's Victory.

Thursday, April 30, 1914, will go down in baseball history as a cold day and also as the day on which the Naps of Cleveland turned one of the rare feats of big league baseball, a triple steal. It was negotiated at the expense of the Browns and one Joe Jenkins, a catcher, who aided the Naps in getting a 3-2 draw with the locals.

The triple steal was resorted to by the Naps after they had pecked away at Baumgardner for eight rounds without any success. The situation was like this: It was the ninth inning of a 12-inning 2-3 tie game. Graney was on third, Olson on second and Carisch on first with two out. As Baumgardner started to wind up to pitch to Wood, a recruit, who was batting for Greg, the three runners dashed for the next base.

It looked as if Graney, the man coming from third, was leading for sure death as Baumgardner had pitched without winding up. The ball reached the plate ahead of the runner but Jenkins missed up things by dropping the ball, and Graney slid over the plate without interference. On the next pitch Wood struck out.

All Jenkins' Fault. This same Jenkins person made matters difficult for Baumgardner in the first inning. Baum would have slipped the Naps a blank but Jenkins slipped the team two runs by firing the ball into left field, permitting two Clevelanders to glide over the pan.

Despite the cold, the Browns put up one of the best exhibitions of the abbreviated season. They got only five hits off three southpaws, Mitchell, Greg and James. Against this the Naps made nine off Baumgardner but got only a 2-3 draw when in reality they were entitled to a 2-0 defeat in the regulation number of rounds.

The real play of the Browns came in the sixth inning. Jim Austin being the hero of this act. Jim was on second, and Pratt on first, with one out and Williams at bat. The ball and run sign was hung out and Austin and Pratt started with the pitch. Williams bunted the ball and beat the throw to first for a single.

Austin didn't stop at third, but kept going for the plate, and although Johnston passed perfectly to Carisch, Austin made a great dash and slide and had chased half of the fans home. The hundred or so who remained until 6:30 for the last putout were either brave or something else.

Joe Jackson received a two-base hit that would have caused Ty Cobb to fight had the Peach been present. Starting the ninth, Joe lifted an ordinary fly ball to left field, with Walker and Wares in pursuit. Either player could have made the putout, but they got signals switched and collided, the ball dropping safely. It proved a fire saver for the Naps. The scorer handed Jackson a double for this.

Besides the settled and forced Lajoie to foul to Jenkins. Graney poked a single over second, but Jackson got no farther than third. Olson's effort was a bunt, but Leary made a sensational one-handed pickup and passed to Jenkins in time to cut down Jackson at first.

HUGGINS DENIES SHIFTS MEAN HE WILL BENCH SELF

Cards' Leader Declares Over Phone He's Merely Seeking Hitters.

By Long-Distance Telephone From Chicago to the Post-Dispatch. Miller Huggins, commander of the cellar-bound Cardinals, denied Friday that he intended to retire from the game and put "Dots" Miller on second, with Leo Dressen on first. In two recent games, Huggins has withdrawn himself to let Dressen break into the box score. Miller, each time moved to second base, a job he held in Pittsburgh before he was reformed into a first-sacker.

"I'm looking for hitters," explained Huggins, "and I have been asking Dressen to find out whether he can connect with the ball. I have no intention of getting out of there, but if Dressen shows me he can hit I may make a few temporary changes when the club gets back to St. Louis."

"I intend to use Beck on third hereafter, as I'm convinced he has it," said Huggins. "I will start him there this afternoon and I expect to improve the team."

"It was so cold here yesterday we couldn't hold onto the ball, even on throws. It was criminal to play, but they ran up just the same. Salles was hit pretty hard, but he was in there trying."

"All that stuff about Sal and myself having trouble is pure rot. You'll always hear that when a club's losing."

"I'm forced to pitch Robinson today because we have no other pitchers ready. Peritt is sick again and, with Griner in St. Louis, we're somewhat crippled. Robinson doesn't like the cold, but he'll have to start. Maybe we'll go behind the bat."

Caleb M. Giesler, a clerk, filed suit, Friday, against the United Railways Co. for $11,000, claiming that he was forcibly ejected without reason, June 15, 1913, from a Union avenue car at Fourteenth and Robt. avenues.

Giesler declares he was ready to pay his fare but that the conductor was engaged in a controversy about a transfer with another passenger, Charles A. ALMA GLUCK WINS FINE TRIUMPH IN EVENING OF SONG

Beautiful Young Singer Appears in Noble Recital Program of the Rarest Charm.

By RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS.

MISS ALMA GLUCK appeared in a song recital at the Odeon on Thursday evening under the auspices of the South Side Day Nursery, and filled that music-saturated auditorium so full of sweet-throated melody as to win for her performance a foremost place in the season's record of harmonic delight.

The beautiful young singer possesses a voice of rare truthfulness and purity of tone, and she uses it with such a loving regard for its pleasure-giving power and in so glad a spirit of surrender to the appeal of its employment as fulfilling a mission precious in art that she seems to become the very incarnation of pure song for song's sake.

As a result of her ample possession and complete exercise of a gift so potent for happiness, Miss Gluck made her way straight to the hearts of her audience and scored a triumph that will long be remembered with grateful affection by all who heard her singularly gracious and competent achievement. Not in many years, it seems to me, has a singer so completely satisfied a St. Louis audience or so convincingly demonstrated a mastery of the art of noble song, the dearest of all arts in its hold upon human emotions.

The range of Miss Gluck's offerings of the evening was wide and its test of her quality was rigorous, easily though the test seemed to be met. The list of her program numbers is impressive, including 15 compositions, all of sincere worthiness, and several encores were added in response to overwhelming applause.

Of the program numbers the most pleasing, perhaps, were the quaintly old-fashioned "Serpina" aria from Pergolesi's long-forgotten opera, "Serva Padrona"; Monro's charming "My Lovely Celia"; Handel's exquisite "Oh, Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" the great "Bel ragio inasighier" aria from Rossini's "Semiramide," a very trying aria from Rimsky-Korsakoff's opera, "The Czar's Bride"; Willby's "June Morning," Homer's "Way Down South," MacDowell's "Long Ago" and Spross' "Will of the Wind."

Then, too, among the night's encores were songs of the finest distinction in the essentials of pure balladry. These included "The Lass With the Delicate Air," Kurt Schindler's arrangement of the Tuscan folk song, "The Dove," Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Hindoo Song," Laura Worth's "Chimes," and as the closing number of the evening, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," following which, with a very great and well deserved success to her credit, Miss Gluck was permitted finally to disappear.

DOES YOUR STOMACH CONTAIN A GLASSFUL OF ACID?

96 OUT OF 100 DYSPETICS HAVE DANGEROUS ACID IN THEIR STOMACHS, WHICH MUST BE NEUTRALIZED IF GOOD HEALTH IS TO BE MAINTAINED.

If you held a teaspoonful of hydrochloric acid in your mouth for only a second you would not be surprised at its burning and inflaming all the tissues; yet an eminent specialist states that 96 out of 100 dyspeptics are about with a glassful or more of this powerful acid in their stomachs, and then wonder what causes the burning and aching and why they suffer the discomfort after meals.

To put wholesome food into an acid stomach only increases the discomfort, because the acid mixes with the fresh food and turns it sour, making a lot more acid. The acid condition causes food fermentation, which irritates, distends and inflames the tender stomach lining, and it is not surprising that specialists say acid stomachs are dangerous. This decidedly dangerous and uncomfortable condition can be overcome either by following a strict diet or (and this is far easier and more quickly effective) by taking a teaspoonful of neutralized magne-

COLOMBIA TREATY HELD UP BY MEXICAN TROUBLE

Administration Won't Press for Ratification Document That Senators Oppose.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Pending settlement of difficulties with Mexico, the administration virtually has decided to abandon any attempt to press for immediate ratification by the Senate of the date ratification by the 15-year-old treaty designed to end the 15-year-old dispute between the United States and Colombia over the secession of Panama. This treaty, negotiated after years of steady diplomatic effort both in Colombia and the United States, has been signed by representatives of the Colombian State Department and by the American representative to that country, Thaddeus A. Thompson, and is before the State Department here. It is understood that Secretary Bryan does not contemplate sending the treaty to the Senate at the present time. In the opinion of many senators, the opposition to ratification is so strong that the Senate's approval hardly could be obtained at the present session of Congress.

fore the State Department here. It is understood that Secretary Bryan does not contemplate sending the treaty to the Senate at the present time. In the opinion of many senators, the opposition to ratification is so strong that the Senate's approval hardly could be obtained at the present session of Congress.

The treaty provides in brief for a restoration of the friendly relations between the two countries, carries an indemnity of $25,000,000 to be paid to Colombia six months after ratification, and gives that country's warships free use of the Panama Canal. It also contains an expression of regret on the part of the United States that anything has arisen to disturb the friendly relations between the two nations.

"That lot has increased in value since I purchased it, but my business needs the money and I'm willing to let it go for what I paid." This is the story behind some of the real estate offers in Post-Dispatch Wants—especially Sunday.

¶ The investing public or the man who is going to build a home are wakening up to the fact that the Country Club district is the only safe location in which to buy restricted lots.

¶ Go out and see the beautiful homes, most all of which have been built in the last two years.

¶ The certainty that values in the COUNTRY CLUB PLACE district will treble is assured. WHY GO ELSEWHERE? Why take a chance and pay more! The AUCTION OF COUNTRY CLUB PLACE is an opportunity that comes but once.

¶ The St. Louis Country Club had the pick of all the county years ago when they selected this site for a club grounds.

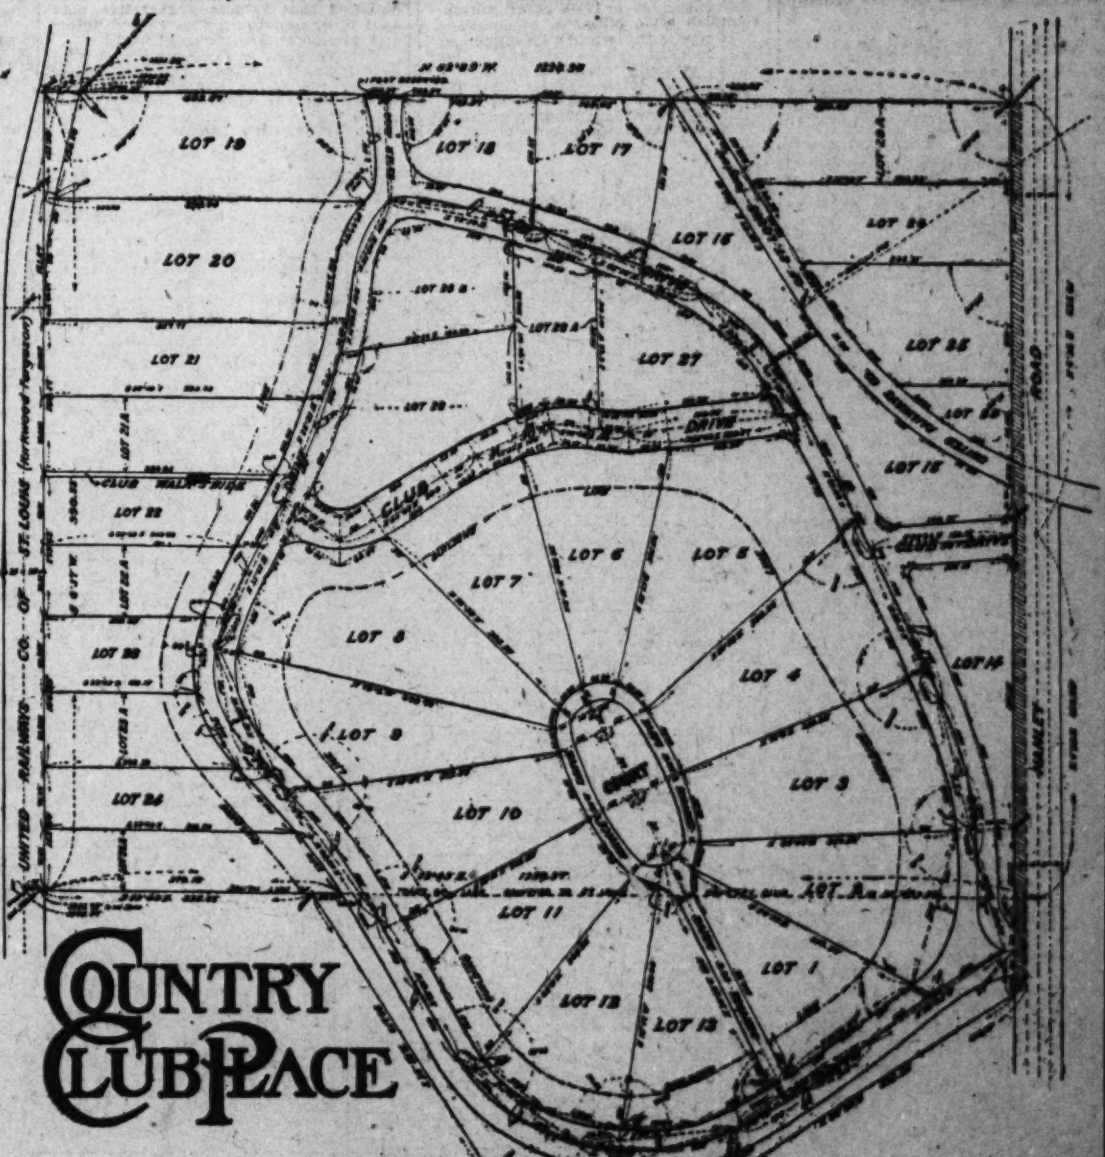

¶ It does not require much common sense to figure out the answer, however, "IT WAS THE HIGHEST ELEVATION AND BEST THAT COULD BE FOUND."

¶ Let's give the location committee credit for having good judgment. Ask that committee the value of that property then; ask anyone the value of it today, and when we announce it is going to be sold to the highest bidder at AUCTION, on MAY 2d, don't you think it is good advice when we say "GO TO THE AUCTION AND BID ON AT LEAST ONE OF THESE LOTS."

NEW ANTI-TRUST BILL PROVIDES FOR JAIL SENTENCES

Administration's Measure, Completed and Made Public, Makes Guilt Personal.

CALLS FOR A COMMISSION

Close Supervision of Corporations
Finances and Operations
Is Prescribed.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The administration interstate trade bill as drafted by a subcommittee of the Senate Commerce Committee for report to the full committee, was made public today. Railroad representatives will be heard on the bill by the committee May 11 and 12, and others interested as opportunity offers.

The bill would provide for a commission of five, not more than three of one political party, at $10,000 a year. Each commissioner would be allowed would be authorised to "investigate the organization, management and its relations to other corporations of any corporation engaged in such commerce as Congress has the power to regulate under the Constitution."

It would empower the commission to require annual or special reports from any corporation subject to the act; to make public its information; and to recommend needed legislation to Congress.

It would provide that nothing in the act should interfere with the Attorney-General's enforcement of the anti-trust or interstate commerce laws, and the commission would be required to submit to the Attorney-General a report of its findings of violations of the law.

In equity suits under the anti-trust law, at the request of any party to suit the commission would be empowered to act as master in chancery and to report its findings to the court.

The commission would be empowered

The bill also would empower the commission to call upon the district court to enforce its orders against corporations.

The measure also would prohibit interlocking directorates in competitive corporations and prohibit holding companies, prescribing detailed procedures for the enforcement of these sections.

It prescribes that all corporation stock must be fully paid for.

The bill also directs the Interstate Commerce Commission over common carriers is respected.

The bill makes guilt personal by making directors, officers and agents responsible for violations of the law.

Corporations also are held responsible for violations of the law.

BRANDEIS ADMITS ROAD

Commerce Commission Counsel
However, Is Opposed to Horizontal Freight Rate Advance.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The net income and operating revenues of Eastern rail roads are "smaller than is consistent with their assured property and the welfare of the community," it was announced yesterday by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the Interstate Commerce Commission in the five per cent
advance rate case.

He maintained, however, that to make
a horizontal advance in all freight rates

Mr. Brandeis said steps should be taken to increase the carriers' revenues, and suggested that testimony given at the commission's hearing had shown how that might be done without advancing rates. He referred to the elimination of special allowances to shippers for loading and unloading other freight cars now performed by the roads.

Clifford Thorne of Iowa, representing eight Middle Western states; William A. Glasgow Jr. of Philadelphia, counsel for the carriers; and John C. H. Brown, Mr. Henderson of the Iowa Railway Commission argued against the proposed increase.

Explosion on Bluff Line Freight Train Near Jerseyville, Ill.

14 Cars.
A carload of blasting powder in the middle of a Bluff Line freight train, two miles north of Jerseyville, Ill., Friday, exploded and caused the burning of 13 other cars, six of which were loaded with new automobiles.

The train was running down a grade known as Bowman Hill, when the conductor and engineer heard the explosion. The crew had no time for fighting the fire, but they unscuppled and removed the front half of the train and detached the caboose. No one was injured, so far as is known. Whether the explosion had any other cause than the setting off of the train, the members of the crew did not know. Charles Lamel was conductor.

The Jarr Family

By ROY L. MCCARDELL

Mr. Jarr Believes in Taking Precautions.

A KANSAS CITY Pullman porter came through the car "paging" Mr. Jarr. Disclosing his identity and proving same with his card case, letters in his pocket and other personal belongings, Mr. Jarr was handed a telegram which read as follows:

Spare no expense, but go light on expense account. Also have promised Fritz, shipping clerk here, who has been with us longer than you have, that you will take charge of his young sister, who leaves her home near Omaha, to enter theatrical profession. Kindly look after young person as requested, without fail.

JABEZ SMITH & CO.

"Is it good news, sah?" asked the porter, standing with an outstretched palm, as though, so Mr. Jarr thought at first, to have the telegram returned to him in case it contained evil tidings.

"Oh, very good news indeed, Sam," replied Mr. Jarr, whistling cheerfully. All porters are same to him.

"See glad to hear it, 'deed I'm lucky when I hands a gemman a telegram it's always good luck," remarked the porter. "That's why the gemman always hands Henry Clay Birdsong a nice piece o' change and say 'Die is fo' you, Sam, fo' day allus calls me Sam, dear lake you done, an' dat's good luck, too!'"

Not seeing Mr. Jarr musing whether the young sister of Fritz, the shipping clerk, was blond or brunette, the porter returned again to the attack.

"Yessah, one gemman gits handed a telegram dese lake you got and he gimmes a dollah bill, yessah! and next Friday he makes $10,000.00 on the Chicago Board of Trade, and he done tell me that it hadn't been Friday, which was his unlucky day, he'd made 10 times dat much. Fo' he says to me, 'Sam, callin' me Sam dese lake you done, 'Sam, whenever you hands me a telegram, it's always a conjure sign of good luck!'"

Mr. Jarr was conscious of this one-sided conversation, but he was wondering if Fritz's young sister was a brunette if she would change her mind and complexion and become a blonde. Some of 'em did, Fritz wasn't anything of beauty or joy forever, being inclined to corpulency and ruse of local color to the nose.

Of course, Mr. Jarr was a respectable married man, and there was nothing flirtatious about him, but still, a young lady coming from home to take up a theatrical career? Well, most unpleasant traveling companions might be thrust upon him.

Stories St. Louisans Tell

WILL W. LA BEAUME, chairman of the Productions Committee of the Pageant, was in consultation, a few weeks ago, with Thomas Wood Stevens, Pageant Master, over some finishing touches on the Pageant drama. They were deciding which of the figures in early St. Louis history should have speaking parts.

"Now, there is Gov. Piernas," said Stevens. "All he has to do is to drink with Pierre Laclede, but I'll give him a two-line speech."

"All right," said LaBeaume. "I'll put down 'Gov. Piernas and Settler.'"

"Why the settler?" asked Stevens.

"To settle for the drinks."

And the settler stayed in the scene.

Stop Paying $20 or $25 for the Suit You Can Get for..... $15

This new second floor shop is right here with indisputable evidence that you don't have to pay $20 or $25 for the clothes you like to wear. It has the suits here themselves to prove it—the very suits which the high-rent stores must sell for $20 or $25—and you can get them here for just $15.

Think this over! Go to every other store and see their $20 and $25 suits, and then come here and see those we are selling for $15. When you see the clothes—you'll know you are getting the value we say, and you'll save $5 to $10.

Of course the stores which have to pay for high rents, window trims, delivery service, floor walkers, office force and buyers, have to tack on $5 to $10, but that's no reason why you should pay it, is it? Certainly not! We've cut out all these big expenses. That's why $25 suits for only..... $15

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF DANDRUFF

End Itching Scalp and Stop Falling Hair—At Once.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid aloe; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to keep your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless; and everybody notices it. You can get liquid aloe at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and from women in all you will need. One simple remedy has never been known to fail—Aloe.
